MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Business Review

For the six months ended 30 June 2010, the Group recorded turnover amount of approximately HK$606.4 million, representing an increase of approximately 54.1% in compared with the same period of last year. The increment of the turnover amount was mainly due to continuous growth of the PRC automobile market and our automobile spare parts have launched commercial production during the current period and provide positive contribution to the Group. As a result of the substantial increase in turnover, the profit attributable to the shareholders of the Company also increased by approximately 188.2% to approximately HK$31.8 million.

The directors of the Company (the “Directors”) are please to announce that our EMS has entered into the new stage. As the sole local manufacturer which can mass produce engine management system (“EMS”) in PRC, we have commenced the mass production for another major customer in the second quarter of the current year. Also we are developing certain new EMS models for a few car manufacturers and are expected to launch commercial production in the coming future. Given our target customers are mainly economic car manufacturers and they are very price-sensitive to the spare parts, and our products have price advantages over other imported products, the management believes that our EMS business will have a bright future.

During the first half of the current year, our automobile safety airbag business is benefited from the continuous growth of the PRC automobile markets and thus recorded significant improvement. Due to the change of product mix, the average gross profit margin of the automobile safety airbag business recorded a slightly decrease in compared with the same period of last year.

On 10 July 2010, the Company has entered into a disposal agreement, in which the Company will sell the entire equity interests of Jinheng (BVI) Limited at a consideration of HK$1,130,000,000 (the “Disposal”), in which it and its subsidiaries are principally engaged in the sale and manufacture of automobile safety airbag system and safety seat belts. The Directors consider that it is a reasonable move for the Company to take this opportunity to capture and realize the gain from its past investment, and focus more on our EMS businesses which are of a higher potential and to optimize the Group’s resources. Furthermore, a special dividend of HK$1.00 per share of the Company (“Special Dividend”) may be proposed in the upcoming extraordinary general meeting. After the approval of the Disposal and the Special Dividend, the Group will have a more solid financial foundation to further develop our businesses such as expansion of production capacities for EMS to 500,000 sets per annum in order to satisfy the expected growing demand of our products and also provide sufficient resources to further develop higher growth potential markets in order to provide more return to the shareholders of the Company.

Financial Review

During the six months period ended 30 June 2010, the turnover amount of the Group were approximately HK$606.4 million, which were increased by approximately 54.1% as compared with the same period of last year. Such increment was mainly due to continuous growth of the PRC automobile market. Also our automotive spare parts business recorded an increase of approximately 26.4% in compared with last year.

For the first half of 2010, the average gross profit margin of the Group was increased by 1.7% to 21.7% as compared with the annual result of 2009. The increase was mainly due to the contribution from the automotive spare parts business. Owing to the change of product mix, the average gross profit margin of both mechanical and electronic airbag systems was approximately 18.8% while it was 21.2% in 2009.

The other revenue of the Group during the period under review was increased by approximately HK$8.0 million to approximately HK$9.2 million as compared with the same period of 2009. The increment was mainly due to the income from certain research projects undertaken for automobile manufacturers.

During the current reporting period, the research and development expenses of the Group were approximately HK$22.8 million while it was approximately HK$9.8 million in the same period of last year. This is mainly due to the continuous development of new products such as automobile wiring systems, automotive safety spare parts and new EMS. It is the business strategy of the Group to develop these new products in order to capture the business opportunities available in the rapid growth PRC automobile market.

Distribution costs of the Group recorded in the first half of 2010 were increased by approximately HK$9.3 million to approximately HK$20.0 million as in comparison with the same period of last year. Such increment was mainly due to the growth of turnover amount, in which the increment rate during the current period is over 50%.

During the six months period ended 30 June 2010, the administrative expenses were approximately HK$38.5 million, which represent a increment of approximately HK$8.6 million as compared with the first half of 2009. The increase was mainly resulted from the enlarged scale of the Group to cope with the growth of our various businesses.

The finance costs during the current six-month period under review were decreased by approximately 21.3% to approximately HK$10.5 million as compared with the same period of 2009. The reduction was mainly due to the restructuring of bank loans and the repayment and conversion of convertible notes during the period.

For the six months ended 30 June 2010, the profit attributable to owners of the Company was increased by approximately 188% to approximately HK$31.8 million in compared with the same period of last year. Outlook and Future Prospects

An extraordinary general meeting of the Company will be held on 6 September 2010 to consider and if thought fit, to approve the Disposal and other resolutions to be proposed. After completion of the Disposal, the Group may have strong and solid financial foundation for further development of our businesses including the phase one expansion of the EMS production capacities to 500,000 sets per annum to satisfy the existing orders, and also further establish advanced research facilities in order to cope with the requirements from customers.

Apart from the EMS business, the Group will also invest in the development of automobile safety spare parts business and the automobile wiring systems business. Given that the quality of our products were proved in the past years and have a competitive price, and also we have strong marketing networks gifted by over 10 years of experience and presence in the PRC automobile spare parts markets, the Directors believe that such extensive experience allows the Group to gain edge over other competitors in the electronic control units and the automobile safety spare parts businesses in the PRC.

Facilitated by the solid financial position after the completion of the Disposal, the Directors can develop the EMS business and other automobile spare parts products in a more effective manner to capture the huge business opportunities available in the PRC automobile market and provide fruitful returns to the shareholders of the Company.

The weighted average value per option granted on 23 August 2007 using binomial lattice pricing model was HK$0.426. The calculation of the weighted average value per option granted during the period does not take into account options granted and forfeited during the period. The weighted average assumptions used are as follows:

	2010
Risk-free interest rate	4.03%
Expected life (in years)	5 years
Volatility	50.0%
Expected dividend per share	4.0%

The binomial lattice pricing model was developed for use in estimating the fair value of traded options that have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. In addition, such option pricing model requires input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected stock price volatility. Because the Company's share options have characteristics significantly different from those of traded options, and because changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate, the binomial lattice pricing model does not necessarily provide a reliable measure of the fair value of the share options.

The weighted average value per option granted on 11 November 2008 using trinomial model was HK$0.098. The calculation of the weighted average value per option granted during the period does not take into account options granted and forfeited during the period. The weighted average assumptions used are as follows:

	2010
Risk-free interest rate	1.09%
Expected life (in years)	3 years
Volatility	49.70%
Expected dividend per share	4.00%

The trinomial model involves the construction of a trinomial lattice which represents different possible paths that might be followed by the stock price over the life of the options. In developing the trinomial lattice, the life of the option is divided into various time steps. In each time step, there is a binomial stock movement. The fair value of the options would then be calculated by making use of the trinomial lattice.

Apart from the foregoing, at no time during the period was the Company or any of its subsidiaries a party to any arrangement to enable the directors of the Company to acquire benefits by means of the acquisition of shares in or debentures of the Company or any other body corporate.
